Performance calculations based on beginning with a $100,000 hypothetical trading account (commissions and slippage are not included). Per Swing Trading Rules, 1/5th (20%) of buying power is allocated to each position in "Confirmed Uptrend". During "Uptrend Under Pressure", trade size drops to 1/10th (10%) of buying power. Please note these hypothetical results are based on entering the stock precisely at the lowest EZBreakouts entry trigger price. Please recognize that this is not always possible in the real world due to slippage, internet speed and variables beyond your control. Your results will vary. Past performance is not indicative of future results. These results are not a recommendation to buy any stock.
